| Hi  |        |                         |
| Thanks for this great software. It seems to work fine except using with symlinks on Linux. Basically if a folder is based on a symlink there is no way to see the contents of the folder. Although it expands the folders in the tree view(no visible files). Basically double clicking on the folder name that is a symlink yields to no visible result in the browsing area(just expands in the treeview), which is not usable for browsing or looking at files. |        |                         |
| thanks  |        |                         |
